ABOUT THE TOPIC

IMPORTANCE OF IPR IN MODERN GLOIBAL ECONOMIC ENVIRONMENT

Introduction

Intellectual Property is that property that is developed by the human mind and by human intellect. Now intellectual property and rights attached to intellectual property are becoming very precious and valuable. In India, there are well-established administrative, statutory, and Judicial frameworks for protecting IPR. India has to comply with the Agreement on Trade-Related Intellectual Property Rights ("TRIPS") by enacting the necessary statutes. Intellectual Property rights deal with Trademark, Copyrights, Patents, and Geographical Indications of goods.

The Connection between Intellectual Property and Economy

The role of Intellectual property in the economy are:

- To provide exclusive rights to the and to protect the interest of the creator and encourage investment in research and information creation;
- Forbid the competitors or anybody from exploiting or misuse the property without the permission of the creator; and
- To create a market for that invention so that it could be given to good use and will motivate others to innovation and creation.

Positive Impact of Intellectual Property Rights in Economy

A country like India which is one of the most developing economies in the world must focus on raising productivity in the market. India has always been known for outstanding services to the rest of the world. One can increase productivity by improving technology and method. Innovation needs investments, it required a great amount of investment, these are expensive but have an important role in investment. We can see and learn from developed countries like the USA and Japan in which the rate of development increased by 5 times after the implementation of Intellectual property laws.
